

Unedited Template

Sample Completed Activity

Elvis Never Quit Trying

Elvis is considered the "King" of rock and roll. Although Elvis was very talented, the quality that made him famous was his persistence. He never gave up.

In 1953 Elvis went into the studio to record two songs. Sam Phillips the owner of Sun Records was not impressed. Elvis tried again in 1954 when he recorded two more songs. Again Sam was not interested in this young man.

However, in July of 1954 Elvis was back in the studio singing "That's Alright Mama" only now at Sam's suggestion, he had Scotty Moore playing guitar and Bill Black on bass. Sam finally saw potential and gave Elvis a record deal with Sun Records.

The rest is history. Elvis went onto become the "King" of rock and roll. I wonder what would have happened if he would have given up instead of trying again and again?

Elvis Never Quit Trying

Elvis is considered the "King" of rock and roll. Although Elvis was very talented the quality that made him famous was his persistence. He never gave up.

In 1953 Elvis went into the study to record two songs. Sam Phillips the owner of Sun Records was not impressed. Elvis tried again in 1954 when he recorded two more songs. Again Sam was not interested in this young man.

However, In July of 1954 Elvis was back in the studio singing "That's Alright Mama" only now at Sam's suggestion, he had Scotty Moore playing guitar and Bill Black on bass. Sam finally saw potential and gave Elvis a record deal with Sun Records.

The rest is history. Elvis went onto become the "King" of rock and roll. I wonder what would have happened if he would have given up instead of trying again and again?