

Shark Finning is Destructive

Wish you were here!

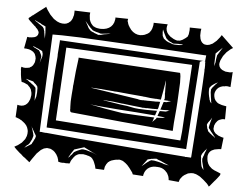

STOP shark
fin soup!

Dear JKCS students,

Shark Finning is a big problem. Did you know that shark fins are made into soup that tastes like nothing. People just serve it to show their wealth. The fishermen cut off the fins while the shark is still alive and then throws what's left back into the ocean so the shark dies either by other sharks eating it or it dies at the bottom of the ocean. I know that you will care about this because if sharks die the ocean food chain will get messed up and cause serious damage.
